

COLLOQUIO MATEMÁTICO

David E. Edmunds
Cardiff University, UK

Entropy, approximations and applications

The talk will survey various results stemming from the notion of the metric entropy of a set and the approximation of linear operators. There are applications to integral operators, partial differential equations and theory, for example.

25 de abril de 2007. 13:00
Aula Miguel de Guzmán (S-118)